STAVANGER XL1000

A classic with a new look

The STAVANGER XL1000 with its magnet system is the successor to the tried-and-tested +XL model. In the course of continuous optimization, we have equipped the STAVANGER XL1000 with improved all-round zipper protection to ward off physical damage from the outside. A rubber strap on the back ensures that the shoulder straps stay in place if the backpack is carried as a case. As you would expect from a case, you can work directly from the backpack thanks to the practical module openings. The new snap system makes it easy to change the optionally available middle walls. The surfaces are easy to wash and disinfect.
